Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 and 2 are drawn to a computerized means of providing a web page to a user which allows user to make selections from the list presented to the user, and, the collect choices made by the user classified in class 701, subclass 1.
- II. Claims 3, 4 and 5 are drawn to an invention to combine the selections made by the user, and, based upon the combinations present a registration form to the user classified in class 700, subclass 49.
- III. Claim 6 is drawn to periodically query users to update their information, classified in 705, subclass 1.
- IV. Claim 7 is drawn to an invention to combine the selections made by the user, and, based upon the combinations make predictions of the user's area of interest classified in class 700, subclass 49.

Art Unit: 3629

- V. Claim 7 is drawn to an invention of an e-commerce engine which can process information provided by the user classified in class 700, subclass 90.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II - V are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, Invention I is directed to providing a user with a web page consisting of menu of selections which a user can make selection from, and collection of selections made by the user.

Inventions II and I, III - V are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, Invention II is directed to a knowledge based system to analyze the data and take appropriate actions.

Inventions III and I, II and IV - V are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, Invention III is directed to a prompt the user to make update to their information collected earlier by the system.

Inventions IV and I – III and V are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, Invention IV is directed to a knowledge based system to analyze the data and make predictions of users area of interest.

Inventions V and I – IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, Invention V is directed to an e-commerce engine to process the information provided by the user.

Art Unit: 3629

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to the applicant at the number provided on Change Of Correspondence Address filed on 30 November 2000, on 02 March 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made because the telephone number is not in service.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Naresh Vig whose telephone number is 703.305.3372. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 7:30 - 5:00 (Alt Friday off).

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, John Weiss can be reached on 703.308.2702. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
